SMART FASHION RECOMMENDER APPLICATION

1. INTRODUCTION:

1.1. PROJECT OVERVIEW:

While Input data may not always be accurate because humans are not perfect at providing ratings. User behavior is more important than ratings. Item-based recommendations provide a better answer in this case., The role of the admin is to check out the database about the stock and have a track of all the things that the users are purchasing. The user will login into the website and go through the products available on the website. Instead of navigating to several screens for booking products online, the user can directly talk to Chatbot regarding the products. Get the recommendations based on information provided by the user. because Recommendation System belongs to the class of Information Retrieval, Data Mining and Machine Learning. Recommender systems play a major role in today's ecommerce industry. Recommender systems recommend items to users such as books, movies, videos, electronic products and many other products in general. Recommender systems help the users to get personalized recommendations, helps users to take correct decisions in their online transactions, increase sales and redefine the users web browsing experience, retain the customers, enhance their shopping experience., Chatbots work by analyzing and identifying the intent of the user's request to extract relevant entities, which is the most important task of a chatbot. Once the analysis is done appropriate response is delivered to the user.

1.2. PURPOSE:

The role of the admin is to check out the database about the stock and have a track of all the things that the users are purchasing. The user will login into the website and go through the products available on the website. Instead of navigating to several screens for booking products online, the user can directly talk to Chatbot regarding the products. Get the recommendations based on information provided by the user.

2. LITERATURE SURVEY:

2.1 EXISTING PROBLEM:

Recommendation engines are a big investment, not only financially, but in terms of time, too: it takes a long time and deep expertise to build an effective recommendation engine in-house. Besides the requisite data scientists and other assorted specialist staff, you will need to factor in costs for the discovery and analysis phase (including a feasibility study to make sure this is the right path for your business), the prototype implementation phase, the minimum viable product (MVP) development, followed by the final release and deployment.

Alternatively, you could employ an off-the-shelf solution from a third-party company, but with so many options available on the market, how do you know which is the right one for your business? Evaluating different solutions can be enormously time consuming, as you need to evaluate their case studies, the technology, how the solution will be integrated into your current company setup, and so on.

Relying on user data has its downsides, one of which is the issue of 'cold start'. This is when a new user enters the system or new items are added to the catalogue, and therefore, it will be difficult for the algorithm to predict the taste or preferences of the new user, or the rating of the new items, leading to less accurate recommendations.

The more the algorithm knows about the customer, the more accurate its recommendations will be. However, many customers are hesitant to hand over personal information, especially given several high-profile cases of customer data leaks in recent years. However, without this customer data, the recommendation engine cannot function effectively. Therefore, building trust between the business and customers is key. Many businesses are thriving thanks to recommendation engines. While they do bring enormous opportunities, it is vital to be aware of the many challenges inherent to the technology in order to utilize it to the fullest.

2.3 PROBLEM STATEMENT DEFINITION:

In India, E-commerce is growing day by day. It is a tedious task for customers to find the appropriate product from the very wide collection of products. Smart Fashion Recommendation System helps in this case.

1. Who does the problem affect?

- When the customer is unable to find the product of their choice.
- Unhappy customers who did not get their desired product.
- The seller who lost a potential sale or even a client in some cases.

2. What are the boundaries of the problem?

- Requires a huge data set to train a reliable system.
- Customer's data need to be collected, stored and analyzed.
- Only in-stock items should be recommended.
- Items should be recommended according to the customer data.

3. What is the issue?

- Customer becomes unsatisfied when recommendation system doesn't give the relevant items.

4. When does the issue occur?

- The desired product will not be recommended if
    1. The user data is insufficient
    2. The product is not available in stock.
    3. Synonymy problem: When the same product is listed under different names.
- the customer by recommending the products based on their needs and preference instead of searching the products.

5. Where is the issue occurring?

- to lack of knowledge about the products
- Incorrect dataset

6. Why is it important that we fix the problem?

- It saves customer's time.
- It increases sales.
- To make the desired products more accessible for the customers.

3. IDEATION AND PROPOSED SOLUTION:

3.1 EMPATHY MAP CANVAS:

3.2 IDEATION AND BRAINSTROMING:

Brainstorming is a great way to generate a lot of ideas that you would not be able to generate by just sitting down with a pen and paper. The intention of brainstorming is to leverage the collective thinking of the group, by engaging with each other, listening, and building on other ideas. Conducting a brainstorm also creates a distinct segment of time when you intentionally turn up the generative part of your brain and turn down the evaluative part. You can use brainstorming throughout any design or work process, of course, to generate ideas for design solutions, but also any time you are trying to generate ideas, such as planning where to do empathy work, or thinking about product and services related to your project.
A recommendation system is a subclass of Information filtering Systems that seeks to predict the rating or the preference a user might give to an item. In simple words, it is an algorithm that suggests relevant items to users. Example, In the case of Netflix which movie to watch, In the case of e-commerce which product to buy, or In the case of kindle which book to read, etc.

3.3 PROPOSED SOLUTION:

- Using chatbot we can manage user's choices and orders.
- The chatbot can give recommendations to the users based on their interests.
- It can promote the best deals and offers on that day.

- It will store the customer's details and orders in the database.
- The chatbot will send a notification to customers if the order is confirmed.
- Chatbots can also help in collecting customer feedback.

3.4 PROPOSED SOLUTION FIT:

- When you have a very large user/items dimensionality, it can be very inefficient – or impossible – to precompute all the recommendations.
- When you create predictions dynamically, the time you need to retrieve them is very important.
- When the system needs to incorporate new data as it becomes available, it's crucial to frequently update the models.
- This means dealing with unseen users or items and continuously changing features.

4. REQUIREMENT ANALYSIS:

4.1 FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENTS:

A Functional Requirement is a description of the service that the software must offer. It describes a software system or its component. A function is nothing but inputs to the software system, its behavior, and outputs. It can be a calculation, data manipulation, business process, user interaction, or any other specific functionality which defines what function a system is likely to perform. Functional Requirements in Software Engineering are also called Functional Specification.

PYTHON:

Python is a dynamic, interpreted (bytecode-compiled) language. There are no type declarations of variables, parameters, functions, or methods in source code. This makes the code short and flexible, and you lose the compile-time type checking of the source code.

FLASK:

Flask is a web framework. This means flask provides you with tools, libraries and technologies that allow you to build a web application. This web application can be some web pages, a blog, a wiki or go as big as a web-based calendar application or a commercial website.

HTML AND CSS:

HTML is an acronym which stands for Hyper Text Markup Language which is used for creating web pages and web applications. Let's see what is meant by Hypertext Markup Language, and Web page.

Cascading Style Sheets, fondly referred to as CSS, is a simple design language intended to simplify the process of making web pages presentable. CSS handles the look and feel part of a web page. Using CSS, you can control the color of the text, the style of fonts, the spacing between paragraphs, how columns are sized and laid out, what background images or colors are used, layout designs, variations in display for different devices and screen sizes as well as a variety of other effects.

IBM CLOUD:

11

IBM Cloud provides solutions that enable higher levels of compliance, security, and management, with proven architecture patterns and methods for rapid delivery for running mission-critical workloads.

4.2 NON-FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENTS:

Nonfunctional Requirements (NFRs) define system attributes such as security, reliability, performance, maintainability, scalability, and usability. They serve as constraints or restrictions on the design of the system across the different backlogs. Also known as system qualities, nonfunctional requirements are just as critical as functional Epics, Capabilities, Features, and Stories. They ensure the usability and effectiveness of the entire system. Failing to meet any one of them can result in systems that fail to satisfy internal business, user, or market needs, or that do not fulfill mandatory requirements imposed by regulatory or standards agencies. In some cases, non-compliance can cause significant legal issues.
5. PROJECT DESIGN:

5.1 DATA FLOW DIAGRAM:

It's easy to understand the flow of data through systems with the right data flow diagram software. This guide provides everything you need to know about data flow diagrams, including definitions, history, and symbols and notations. You'll learn the different levels of a DFD, the difference between a logical and a physical DFD and tips for making a DFD.
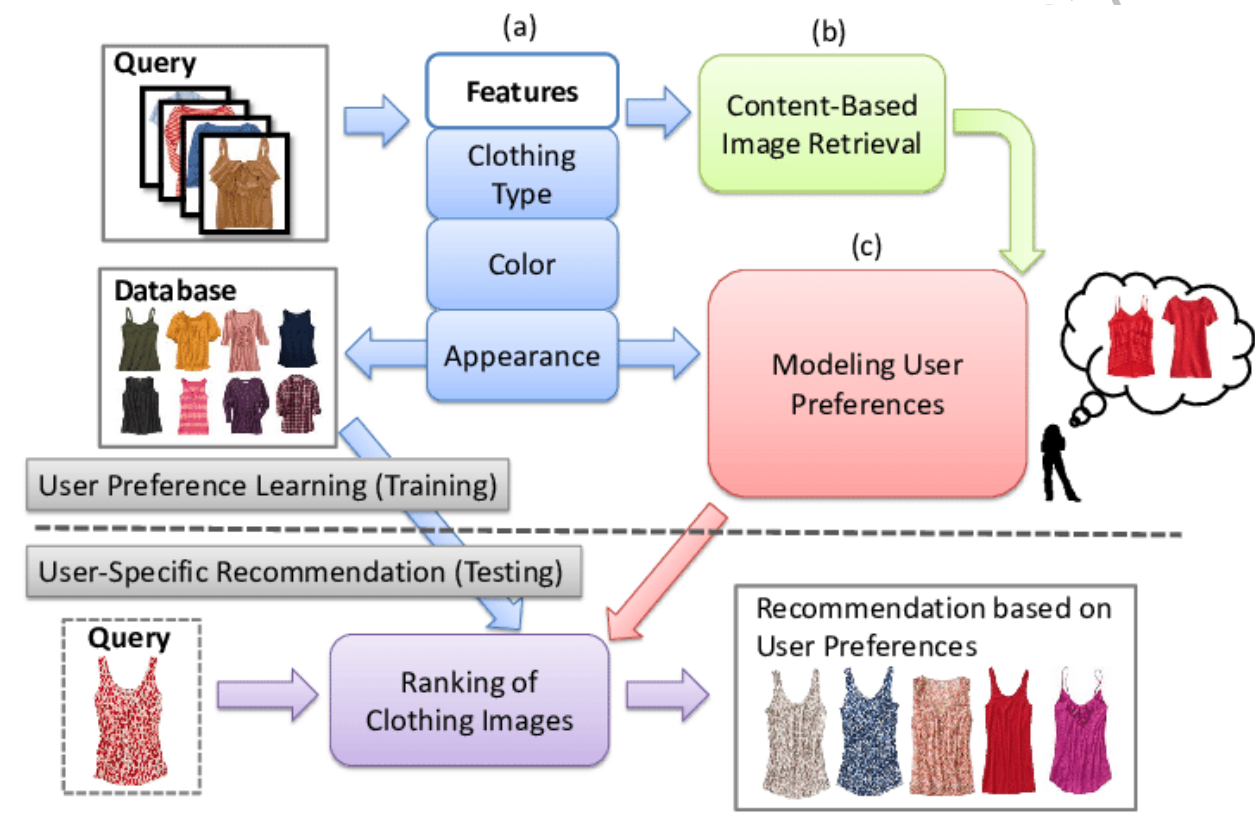

5.2 SOLUTION AND TECHNICAL ARCHITECTURE:

Solution architecture provides the ground for software development projects by tailoring IT solutions to specific business needs and defining their functional requirements and stages of implementation. It is comprised of many subprocesses that draw guidance from various enterprise architecture viewpoints.

13

Technical Architecture (TA) is a form of IT architecture that is used to design computer systems. It involves the development of a technical blueprint with regard to the arrangement, interaction, and interdependence of all elements so that system-relevant requirements are met.

5.3 USER STORIES:

In agile software development, user stories contain feature descriptions that are used as the entry points of discussions about the design, specification, requirements, and estimation of the software features. The first step in implementing a user story is to find proper files in the code base to make changes. To help the developers, in this paper, we describe a new approach that automatically recommends the files where a feature will most likely be implemented based on a given user story that describes the feature.

A user story is an informal, general explanation of a software feature written from the perspective of the end user. Its purpose is to articulate how a software feature will provide value to the customer. It's tempting to think that user stories are, simply put, software system requirements. But they're not. A key component of agile software development is putting people first, and a user story puts end users at the center of the conversation. These stories use non-technical language to provide context for the development team and their efforts. After reading a user story, the team knows why they are building, what they're building, and what value it creates.

User stories are one of the core components of an agile program. They help provide a user-focused framework for daily work — which drives collaboration, creativity, and a better product overall.

9. RESULTS:

9.1 PERFORMANCE METRICS:

Recommender systems are growing progressively more popular in online retail because of their ability to offer personalized experiences to unique users. Mean Average Precision at K (MAP@K) is typically the metric of choice for evaluating the performance of a recommender systems. However, the use of additional diagnostic metrics and visualizations can offer deeper and sometimes surprising insights into a model's performance. This article explores Mean Average Recall at K (MAR@K), Coverage, Personalization, and Intra-list Similarity, and uses these metrics to compare three simple recommender systems.
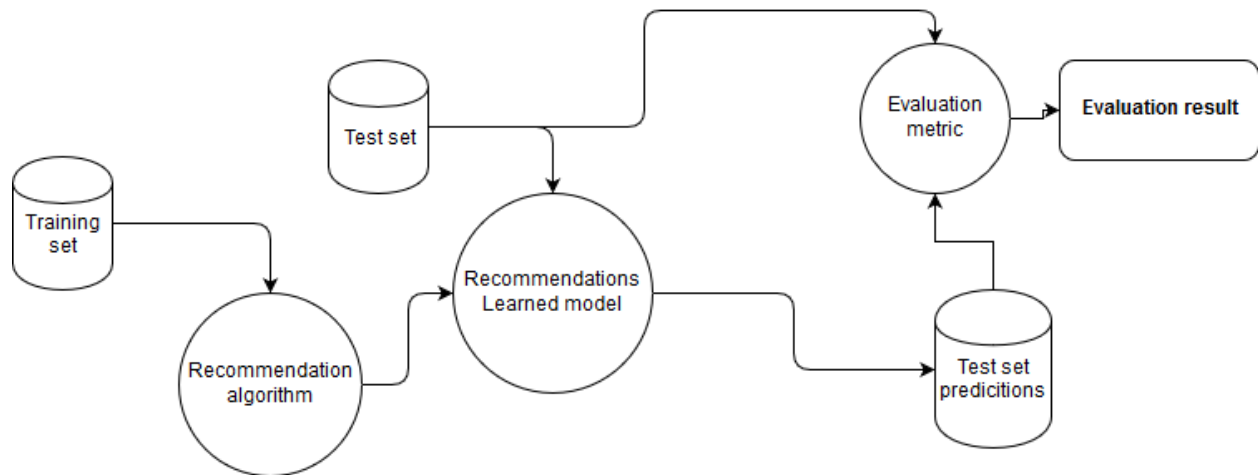

10. ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES:
ADVANTAGES:

1. Easy recommendations make less searches and sometimes end up un good deals
2. User reviews will give accurate information, this is also an advantage if you purchase online as you can see other reviews too, most of the times honest
3. Speed up the process of decision and purchase based on the previous statistics

DISADVANTAGES:

1. If the system recommends products with bias, then customer will be landing into wrong deals.

2. Chances are that some websites may suggest products wrongly based on analysis of little information gathered.

11. CONCLUSION:

A recommendation system is an information service system that connects users and projects: on the one hand, it helps users discover potential projects of interest; on the other hand, it helps project providers to deliver projects to users who are interested in it. The recommendation system is a powerful system that can add value to the company or business. In the future, it will continue to be researched and developed to bring a better experience to users.

Recommender systems are a powerful new technology for extracting additional value for a business from its user databases. These systems help users find items they want to buy from a business. Recommender systems benefit users by enabling them to find items they like. Conversely, they help the business by generating more sales. Recommender systems are rapidly becoming a crucial tool in E-commerce on the Web.

Recommender systems are being stressed by the huge volume of user data in existing corporate databases, and will be stressed even more by the increasing volume of user data available on the Web. New technologies are needed that can dramatically improve the scalability of recommender systems. we presented and experimentally evaluated a new algorithm for CF-based recommender systems. Our results show that item-based techniques hold the promise of allowing CF-based algorithms to scale to large data sets and at the same time produce high-quality recommendations.

12. FUTURE SCOPE:

Recommender systems can be a very powerful tool in a company's arsenal, and future developments are going to increase business value even further. Some of the applications include being able to anticipate seasonal purchases based on recommendations, determine important purchases, and give better recommendations to customers which can increase retention and brand loyalty. Most businesses will have some use for recommender systems, and I encourage everyone to learn more about this fascinating area.

Chatbots can provide buyers with a great experience across all devices, offering deep insights about the buyer that businesses can use to make personalized offers. Chatbots help people obtain the information they need and solve their problems. A company's credibility and the quality of the customer experience are two essential components of any company wishing to achieve a successful business model. Many well-known companies are now using chatbot powered by artificial intelligence to keep up with the changing world. The technology sector has seen a massive increase in AI development, which has led to the creation of chatbots that can help users easily find the information they need online.

13. APPENDIX:

1. McAuley et al. [1] devised a parametric distance transformation that assigns a lower distance to garment pairings that fit well than to those that do not. And provided Image-based recommendations on styles and substitutes.
2. Hu et al. [2] conducted a preliminary investigation into personalised outfit recommendation. To describe the user-item and item-item interactions, a functional tensor factorization method was presented. They proposed A functional tensor factorization approach.
3. Veit et al. [4] learned feature transformation for a compatibility measure between pairs of objects using a Siamese CNN architecture. All of these works focused solely on the compatibility of two things. Furthermore, they simply modelled broad matching criteria and ignored the issue of personalisation.
4. Thombre in [3] used image segmentation and Kalman filter to realize Human detection and tracking. Orrite-Urunuela proposed a statistical model for detection and tracking of human silhouette and the corresponding 3D skeletal structure in gait sequences [5]. How-Lung [6] provided an outdoor aquatic surveillance system for human motion tracking and detection.

5. Ajmani et al. [7] present a novel method for content-based recommendation of mediarich commodities with the use of probabilistic multimedia ontology. Proposed an ontology based personalized garment recommendation system.

6. Li et al. [8] utilized the HMM of recommended items to match customers' model according to customer data. The second method is the collaborative filtering-based recommendations algorithm. Proposed Content-Based Filtering Recommendation Algorithm.

7. For instance, Nogueira et al. [9] presented a new collaborative filtering strategy that utilizes the visual attention to characterize images and alleviate the new item cold-start problem. The rule-based recommendation algorithm is the third method.

8. Hwang et al. [10] put forward a method to generate the automatic rules with the user's items and made a suggestion on the best rule. The fourth method is the utilitybased recommendation. For instance,

9. Scholz et al. [11] found that exponential utility functions are better geared to predicting optimal recommendation ranks for products, and linear utility functions perform much better in estimating customers' willingness.

10. Koenig in [12] developed a system toward real-time human detection and tracking in diverse environments. However, mostly the researchers focus on the point of human detection and tracking in complex scene, while refined contour extraction of human in dynamic scene is still an open question.
